Executive Summary

Crime in California

Crime in California 2025 presents an overview of the criminal justice system in California. Caution should be used when comparing 2025 crime data to prior years. Not all agencies were able to submit a full year of data for 2025. See "Understanding the Data, Characteristics and Known Limitations" for additional information on Page 4.

Understanding the Data

Characteristics and Known Limitations

In 2016, the Federal Bureau of Investigation’s (FBI) Director informed all state Statistical Analysis Centers that the FBI Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) program would be transitioning to a National Incident-Based Reporting System (NIBRS)-only data collection by January 1, 2021. The California Department of Justice (DOJ) embarked on a five-year effort to develop and implement a new state repository, the California Incident-Based Reporting System (CIBRS), to house the new FBI statistical reporting format. The CIBRS repository is a combination of the federal NIBRS requirements with additional California-specific data elements. California DOJ began collecting data in CIBRS in 2021. However, not all California LEAs have transitioned.

The 2021-2025 data presented in this 2025 publication are a combination of both the summary (SRS) and incident-based reporting (IBR) formats. There is an established method for converting IBR data into summary data for comparison and trending purposes. In order to present the most comprehensive and complete picture of crime, the summary and IBR data were combined and are presented in the summary format for this year’s publication.

There are a few details to consider with this combined approach:

1. Prior to 2025, definitional differences existed for the reporting of rape between summary and IBR reporting. In 2013, the FBI changed the crime of “forcible rape” to “rape” for the summary data collection which was implemented in 2014. The definition was expanded to include both male and female victims and reflect the various forms of sexual penetration understood to be rape. The IBR collection historically included built-in validations that prohibited the reporting of rape offenses where the victim and offenders’ sex were the same. There are footnotes in each table impacted in this publication, and both the summary and IBR values are presented.

Summary and IBR number breakdowns for total rapes since the inclusion of IBR reporting are as follows for the crimes and arrest data:

Rape Crimes Reported, 2021-2024
By Type of System Reported

Year	Total	Summary Based	Incident Based
2024	13,874	3,389	10,485
2023	13,663	5,287	8,376
2022	14,346	8,851	5,495
2021	14,435	11,874	2,561

Rape Arrests Reported, 2021-2024
By Type of System Reported

Year	Total	Summary Based	Incident Based
2024	1,954	605	1,349
2023	1,776	818	958
2022	1,890	1,299	591
2021	1,964	1,809	155

2. California has expanded the sex (gender) categories it collects in CIBRS to include: male, female, non-binary, and transgender. The FBI only collects the values of male and female. There are footnotes in each table impacted in this publication, and the counts for each new value are reflected where appropriate.

IBR Transgender Arrests Reported, 2021-2025

Year	Transgender (Presents Male)	Transgender (Presents Female)
2025	213	620
2024	220	465
2023	155	307
2022	68	198

AGENCY LIMITATIONS FOR 2025

The following agencies were unable to report the full year of data due to a variety of reasons including but not limited to: Records Management System (RMS) issues, unresolved reporting errors, staffing issues, is a new reporting agency, or failing to report.

Butte County

- Gridley-Biggs Police Department (New contract agency beginning in July)

Fresno County

- Fresno County Sheriff’s Department (Unable to report all data for January due to system issues)
- Huron Police Department (Unable to report data for October through November due to agency resource challenges)

Kern County

- Arvin Police Department (Unable to report due to agency resource challenges)

Los Angeles County

- Los Angeles Port Police Department (New agency beginning in June)

San Diego County

- Palomar College Police Department (New agency beginning in July)
- San Diego Sheriff’s Department (Unable to report all data for January through June due to system issues)

CRIMES UCR Program

- Crime data from the FBI's UCR Program are available from 1952 to 2025.
- The number of reported homicide, rape, and aggravated assault crimes represents known victims; while for robbery, burglary, larceny-theft, motor vehicle theft, and arson, the number represents known incidents.
- If multiple crimes occur during the same event, only the most serious offense (based upon a hierarchy) is counted. Arson is the exception.
- LEAs began submitting arson crimes data in 1979; however, 1980 was the first year of complete reporting. Agencies must report arson only for fires determined through investigation to have been willfully or maliciously set. Attempts to burn are included in this offense, but fires of suspicious or unknown origins are not.
- In 2011, the lower limit of felony theft in California was raised from $400 to $950. It was not feasible to adjust California DOJ's data collection process to collect the new lower limit of felony larceny-theft, and consequently, it is no longer possible to distinguish felony from misdemeanor larceny-theft. Therefore, it was decided to include total larceny-theft crime in the "property crime" category regardless of value.
- In 2013, the FBI's UCR Program revised the definition of "forcible rape" (the carnal knowledge of a female forcibly and against her will) to "rape," which is now defined as "penetration, no matter how slight, of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of the victim."

California DOJ implemented this definition change in January 2014. During 2014, agencies were encouraged to report using the new definition but were allowed to report under the historical definition while transitioning their reporting systems.

- In 2023, the Los Angeles Police Department reported a significant decrease in arson crimes. The reason for the decrease had not yet been received at the time of publishing.
- After DOJ released its 2023 annual reports, Oakland Police Department identified some reporting inaccuracies in its 2023 statistical data. Oakland Police Department subsequently submitted revised data, which has been applied to all affected 2023 tables and data files. As a result, statewide 2023 data in this 2025 publication have been updated to reflect these revisions, but statewide 2023 data in previously issued publications have not been updated. Caution should be used when comparing previously published statewide 2023 data with the statewide 2023 data in this report. Please see tables 1 through 3, 5 through 15, and 48 for the revised crime counts.

ARRESTS UCR Program

- Arrest data from the UCR program are available from 1957 to 2025.
- If a person is arrested for multiple offenses on the same day, MACR selects only the most serious offense based on the severity of possible punishment.
- Felony arrest counts may include some misdemeanor warrants for felony offenses.
- The subjectivity of the classification and labeling process must be considered in analyses of race/ethnic group data.
- The Bakersfield Police Department was unable to provide arrest data for February through December 1995. The Oakland Police Department was unable to provide any arrest data for 1995. Estimates for both agencies were added to the 1995 statewide totals for publication trend tables.
- Beginning in 2004, the population category of "other" for race/ethnic group includes the California Department of Finance's race/ethnic group of "multi-racial."

- In 2011, there were notable changes in California law that affected arrest data. First, the lower limit of felony theft was raised from $400 to $950, contributing to the decline in felony theft arrests and the increase in misdemeanor theft arrests. Second, some misdemeanor marijuana statutes were re-classified as infractions, leading to a significant decline in misdemeanor marijuana arrests.
- In 2014, the definition of rape changed. Refer to the preceding “Crimes” section for a more detailed explanation and to Appendix 2 for a list of included offense codes.
- In November 2014, California voters passed Proposition 47 which reduced numerous “non-violent” offenses from felonies to misdemeanors. Caution should be used when comparing felony and misdemeanor arrest data from the current year to data from prior years.
- In November 2016, California voters passed Proposition 64, which legalized the possession and use of marijuana for individuals 21 years of age and older and reduced the offense degree for a number of marijuana-related offenses. Caution should be used when comparing drug offense arrests from the current year to data from prior years.

DISPOSITIONS OF ADULT FELONY ARRESTS

- Adult felony arrest disposition data (i.e., data related to the final law enforcement or prosecutorial outcome of a felony adult arrest) are extracted annually from California DOJ’s Criminal History System. The data statistically capture the number of adult level final dispositions that occur each year as a result of a felony arrest and are displayed by the year of disposition regardless of the year in which an arrest occurred.
- Disposition data do not reflect the actual number of final dispositions occurring each year. Fluctuations from year to year may not necessarily be the result of actual occurrences in the criminal justice system but may reflect the degree to which reports of dispositions were reported and processed.

- “Final disposition” refers to the last adult-level legal action that is reported prior to the close of the annual file. Final disposition can occur at the law enforcement, prosecutorial, or court level. Intermediate dispositions (diversion programs, suspended proceedings, or subsequent actions) are not included in the data.
- Dispositions that occur at the law enforcement or prosecutorial level involving releases, rejections, or resolutions can be reported in one calendar year file, proceed to adjudication at the court level, and then be reported again in a subsequent year file. The law enforcement release or prosecutorial rejection reported in the prior year’s file is not retroactively updated or removed.
- If a person is arrested for multiple offenses, the extract selects only the most serious offense based on the severity of possible punishment. If there are multiple dispositions, the extract selects the most serious disposition and the associated offense.
- Disposition data on state institutional commitments may vary from information compiled and reported by other state agencies because of differences in the data collection systems and criteria.
- The adult felony arrest disposition file includes some persons whose age at arrest was under 18. These minors received a final disposition in adult court under provisions of Welfare and Institutions Code sections 602, 707(a), 707(b), 707(c), and 707.1(a).
- In 2019, there was a decrease in the number of final dispositions and sentences for felony adult arrests reported to California DOJ from 215,283 in 2018 to 110,002 in 2019.
- In 2020, the California Legislature passed Assembly Bill 823-Juvenile Justice Realignment. In accordance, the Division of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) closed as of 6/30/2023. The disposition previously labeled “DJJ” has been replaced with the new disposition “Secure Track County Facility-AB 823”.

- In 2025, it was identified that conviction counts by offense category and sentence in Table 40 for years 2022 through 2024 were categorized by arrest offense rather than conviction offense. The current table presents conviction counts by conviction offense and sentence. Conviction counts categorized by arrest offense are presented in Table 39.

ADULT PROBATION

- Probation data include adults placed on supervised probation only. Court probation, diversion, and summary probation data are not included.
- Adult probation data are limited to original grants of probation and do not include subsequent grants of probation to those already under supervised probation in the same county. Probationers are counted for each jurisdiction in which they are on probation.
- From 2001 to 2005, San Francisco County Probation Department did not report adult probation data. Reporting resumed in 2006.
- Counts for adults on active probation for felony offenses may also include adults on probation for misdemeanor offenses for the following counties and years: Contra Costa (2000-2025), Kern (2010-2025), Lake (2001-2012), Merced (2003-2016), Sacramento (2003-2015), Shasta (2016-2025), Siskiyou (2000-2012), Tulare (2000-2009), and Yolo (2000-2009).
- Some counties may have counted individuals on Post Release Community Supervision.
- In 2014, the San Bernardino County Probation Department discovered inaccurate probation statistics due to a flaw in their case management records system. Correcting the flaw resulted in a probation caseload decrease of 10,000 from previous years.

- In 2016, the Sacramento County Probation Department discovered that revoked and reinstated counts were not accurately reported in the data submitted for the reporting periods 2013-2015. Correcting the reporting practice resulted in a reduced beginning felony caseload for 2016.
- In October 2018, the San Joaquin County Probation Department discovered that probation caseload data had historically been inaccurately reported. An assessment of their records resulted in a decrease of both felony and misdemeanor caseloads by approximately 6,000.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE PERSONNEL

- The UCR definition of law enforcement personnel specifies that LEAs report only personnel paid by funds designated for law enforcement.
- The 1996 data collection survey forms were revised in an attempt to collect counts on the number of criminal justice personnel employed by prosecutors, public defenders, and probation departments, regardless of the funding source. Prior to 1996, counts excluded state and federally funded positions.

CIVILIANS' COMPLAINTS AGAINST PEACE OFFICERS

- Data on civilians' complaints against peace officers have been collected since 1981.
- Because of the nature of the requirements of Penal Code section 832.5, reporting definitions and procedures may vary among individual reporting agencies.
- Based on a survey conducted in 2004, it was estimated that approximately one-third of complaints against peace officers were made by inmates in prison and jails.

- In 2007, two LEAs adjusted their reporting policies, substantially affecting the number of reported non-criminal and felony complaints.
- In 2017, California Penal Code section 13012 was amended, replacing the word citizens' with civilians'. This modification was applied to the 2018 data collection.
- In 2024, Oakland Police Department did not report due to a cyberattack.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE-RELATED CALLS FOR ASSISTANCE

- Reporting of domestic violence-related calls for assistance began in July 1986. The first full year of reporting was 1987.
- The definition of “domestic violence” is subject to varying interpretations by law enforcement agencies. As a result, different types of domestic relationships are included in the database.
- The San Francisco Police Department did not report domestic violence data from April 1997 to December 1999.
- Included in the data are any cases that resulted in a report being written by the responding LEAs. Therefore, data include both cases where an arrest was made and those where circumstances did not warrant an arrest.
- In April 2002, LEAs were instructed to report personal weapons (hands, fists, or feet) only if the assault resulted in an injury (aggravated assault). This instruction resulted in a notable decrease in the number of personal weapons reported.
- Reporting anomalies have required minor adjustments to the 2014 and 2016 data. Data may not match those previously published.

- In 2017, California Penal Code section 13730 was amended. Beginning in 2018, LEAs were instructed to include whether there were indications that the incident involved strangulation or suffocation. This includes whether a witness or victim reported such an incident, or symptoms thereof, or whether an officer observed any other indications of strangulation or suffocation.
- After DOJ released its 2023 annual reports, Oakland Police Department identified some reporting inaccuracies in its 2023 statistical data. Oakland Police Department subsequently submitted revised data, which has been applied to all affected 2023 tables and data files. As a result, statewide 2023 data in this 2025 publication have been updated to reflect these revisions, but statewide 2023 data in previously issued publications have not been updated. Caution should be used when comparing previously published statewide 2023 data with the statewide 2023 data in this report. Please see tables 1 through 3, 5 through 15, and 48 for the revised crime counts.

LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS KILLED OR ASSAULTED (LEOKA)

- LEOKA data from the UCR Program are available from 1990 to 2025.
- State correctional officers and federal agents are not included in LEOKA data.
- Beginning January 1, 2015, the LEOKA Data Collection created an exception to its collection criteria to include the data of individuals who are killed or assaulted individuals serving as a law enforcement officer at the request of a law enforcement agency whose officers meet the current collection criteria.

For additional information, please see Understanding the Data, Characteristics and Known Limitations.

^b Prior to 2005, the Los Angeles Police Department had included child abuse and domestic violence simple assaults in its aggravated assault statistics. This change may have contributed to the large decrease in aggravated assaults from 2004 to 2005.

² Data for arson crimes are not available prior to 1980. For additional information, see Understanding the Data, Characteristics and Known Limitations.

Notes: Statewide arrest data from 1952 through 1965 can be found in Table 16 of Crime in California, 2006.

Since 1966 there have been many changes in laws, data collection procedures, etc.; therefore, caution should be used when comparing data for the 1966 through 2025 period.

Juvenile misdemeanor arrest data for 1973 through 2025 are not comparable to prior years because of changes in reporting criteria.

^a In November 2014, California voters passed Proposition 47 which reduced some felony offenses to misdemeanors. These changes affected the offenses reported. Caution should be used when comparing felony and misdemeanor arrest data to prior years. For additional information, see Understanding the Data, Characteristics and Known Limitations and Appendix 2, Arrest Offense Codes.

^b Includes estimated annual data for the Bakersfield Police Department and the Oakland Police Department. For additional information, see Understanding the Data, Characteristics and Known Limitations.

³ Rates are based on the population at risk for each year. The categories are total (10-69 years of age), adult (18-69 years of age), and juvenile (10-17 years of age) (see Table 53).

Dash indicates that a percent change was not calculated due to data definition change.

Caution should be used when comparing rape data to prior years. For additional information, including the SRS and IBR rape numbers for prior years, see Understanding the Data, Characteristics and Known Limitations.

² Rates are based on the population at risk for each year. The categories are total (10-69 years of age), adult (18-69 years of age), and juvenile (10-17 years of age) (see Table 53).

For additional information, including the SRS and IBR rape numbers for prior years, see Understanding the Data, Characteristics and Known Limitations.

² Starting in 2021, there was an increase in the Turned Over to Other Agency and decrease in the Complaint Sought dispositions. This was due to a record management system issue affecting several large agencies that caused no Complaint Sought dispositions to be reported in IBR.

Dash indicates that a percent change is not calculated when the base number is less than 50.

Dash indicates that a percent change was not calculated due to data definition change.

¹ California has expanded the sex (gender) categories it collects in CIBRS to include: male, female, non-binary, and transgender. The 2025 arrest numbers include 212 transgender (identifying as male) and 620 transgender (identifying as female) in the male and female gender categories, respectively. Arrest numbers for the non-binary gender category are not included in this table due to the small population size. Caution should be used when comparing gender data to prior years. For additional information, including the expanded gender category numbers for prior years, see Understanding the Data, Characteristics and Known Limitations.

The 2025 felony arrest numbers include 68 transgender (identifying as male) and 164 transgender (identifying as female) in the male and female gender categories, respectively. Arrest numbers for the non-binary gender category are not included in this table due to the small population size. Caution should be used when comparing gender data to prior years. For additional information, including the expanded gender category numbers for prior years, see Understanding the Data, Characteristics and Known Limitations.

² In 2014, the crime of "forcible rape" was changed to "rape." The definition was expanded to include both male and female victims and reflects the various forms of sexual penetration understood to be rape. Caution should be used when comparing rape data to prior years. For additional information, including the SRS and IBR rape numbers, see Understanding the Data, Characteristics and Known Limitations.

Note: California has expanded the sex (gender) categories it collects in CIBRS to include: male, female, non-binary, and transgender. The 2025 felony arrest numbers include 68 transgender (identifying as male) and 164 transgender (identifying as female) in the male and female gender categories, respectively. Arrest numbers for the non-binary gender category are not included in this table due to the small population size. Caution should be used when comparing gender data to prior years. For additional information, including the expanded gender category numbers for prior years, see Understanding the Data, Characteristics and Known Limitations.

Note: California has expanded the sex (gender) categories it collects in CIBRS to include: male, female, non-binary, and transgender. The 2025 misdemeanor arrest numbers include 144 transgender (identifying as male) and 456 transgender (identifying as female) in the male and female gender categories, respectively. Arrest numbers for the non-binary gender category are not included in this table due to the small population size. Caution should be used when comparing gender data to prior years. For additional information, including the expanded gender category numbers for prior years, see Understanding the Data, Characteristics and Known Limitations.

Source: Data extracted from the California Department of Justice Criminal History System. For additional information, see Understanding the Data, Characteristics and Known Limitations.

Notes: This table presents the number and type of final dispositions and sentences for felony arrests reported to the California Department of Justice by law enforcement agencies, district attorneys, and courts. Caution should be used when interpreting this information because arrests and dispositions are underreported. It should also be noted that approximately 1.6% of the adult felony convictions contained in these data represent a disposition that the California Department of Justice was unable to positively link to a criminal record; accordingly, an arrest event was created based solely upon the disposition information provided. There is no way for the California Department of Justice to estimate the exact percentage of underreported dispositions. The nature, extent, and reasons for this underreporting vary from agency to agency and from year to year. Percentages may not add to subtotals or 100.0 because of rounding.

^a In 2019, there was a decrease in the number of final dispositions and sentences for felony adult arrests reported to the California Department of Justice.

^b In November 2014, California voters passed Proposition 47 which reduced some felony offenses to misdemeanors. Caution should be used when comparing felony arrest disposition data to prior years.

 Notes: This table presents the number and type of final dispositions and sentences for felony arrests reported to the California Department of Justice by law enforcement agencies, district attorneys, and courts. Caution should be used when interpreting this information because arrests and dispositions are underreported. It should also be noted that approximately 1.6% of the adult felony convictions contained in these data represent a disposition that the California Department of Justice was unable to positively link to a criminal record; accordingly, an arrest event was created based solely upon the disposition information provided. There is no way for the California Department of Justice to estimate the exact percentage of underreported dispositions. The nature, extent, and reasons for this underreporting vary from agency to agency and from year to year. Percentages may not add to subtotals or 100.0 because of rounding.

¹ The "other" category includes release due to delay, subject reported deceased, handled administratively, Penal Code section 849(b)(2) - intoxication only, and Penal Code section 849(b)(3) - under the influence of a controlled substance and delivered to a treatment facility.

⁴ The "other" category includes no sentence given, sentence suspended, and sentence stayed.

Note: These data include adults placed on supervised probation only. Data are limited to original grants of probation and do not include subsequent grants of probation to persons already under supervised probation in the same county.

^a In 2018, San Joaquin County Probation discovered inaccurate reporting of caseload counts resulting in corrected felony and misdemeanor caseload counts for October.

^b In 2016, Sacramento County Probation discovered inaccurate reporting of caseload counts from 2013-2015 resulting in a corrected beginning felony caseload count for 2016.

^c In November 2014, California voters passed Proposition 47 which reduced numerous state statutes from felonies to misdemeanors. Caution should be used when comparing felony and misdemeanor data to prior years.

^d San Bernardino County Probation revised their beginning caseload counts for 2014. The revision resulted in a decrease of almost 9,000 felony cases and an increase of almost 400 misdemeanor cases.

Notes: Data collection began in 1981.

Because of the individual nature of the requirements of Penal Code section 832.5(a), reporting definitions and procedures vary among reporting agencies.

The data collected under Penal Code section 13012(5) are accurate and complete to the extent that the contributing agencies met reporting obligations.

¹ Based on a survey conducted in 2004, it is estimated that complaints from inmates in prisons and jails may constitute approximately one-third of all complaints reported by law enforcement agencies.

^b The increase in the number of reported non-criminal complaints and the decrease in the number of reported felony complaints result from reporting-policy changes made by two law enforcement agencies.

Notes: Expanded categories of complaint findings and profiling data collection began in 2016 as a result of the passage of Assembly Bill 953 (2015).

Reporting agencies may use more findings than those captured on the annual survey. Complaints reported in previous years may be finalized and their findings reported in subsequent years. Consequently, the sum of the findings may not add up to the total reported.

More than one type of profiling complaint can be reported per citizen complaint. Consequently, the total number of profiling complaints is less than the sum of the types of complaints.

Because of the individual nature of the requirements of Penal Code section 832.5(a), reporting definitions and procedures vary among reporting agencies.

The data collected under Penal Code section 13012(5) are accurate and complete to the extent that the contributing agencies met reporting obligations.

² Prior to 1989, the "personal weapon" category was not recognized by all reporting agencies as a type of weapon. When those agencies began reporting personal weapon calls as cases involving weapons, they did not provide the type of weapon designation. This accounts for the large increase in "not reported" weapons in 1989 and 1990.

³ Data for cases with strangulation or suffocation are not available prior to 2018. For additional information, See Understanding the Data, Characteristics and Known Limitations.

^a Statewide counts for 2023 have been modified from previously published counts. Caution should be used when comparing 2023 with prior publications. For additional information, please see Understanding the Data, Characteristics and Known Limitations.

^b Data may not match previously published data for 2014 and 2016.

^c In April 2002, law enforcement agencies were instructed to report personal weapons only if the assault resulted in an injury (aggravated assault).

^d The San Francisco Police Department was unable to provide complete data for 1997 and did not report data for 1998 and 1999 because of computer problems. In 1996, this department reported 6,422 domestic violence-related calls for assistance.

^e The Oakland Police Department was unable to provide 1995 data. In 1994, this department reported 5,237 domestic violence-related calls for assistance.

^f Data collection began in July 1986; therefore, only six months of data are available and displayed for 1986.

² A "victim" may be an individual, a reproductive health facility, a religious facility, a residence, etc. A victim can have more than one offense committed against them.

⁴ Hands, feet, etc.

^a Starting in 2023, due to the implementation of incident-based reporting, all individual victims are categorized as "other".

Note: This table provides summary statistical data on the total number of persons 60 years of age or older who were victims of homicide, rape, robbery, or aggravated assault.

Caution should be used when comparing rape data to prior years. For additional information, including the SRS and IBR rape numbers for prior years, see Understanding the Data, Characteristics and Known Limitations.

Computational Formulas

CRIMES

Crime rate – A crime rate describes the number of crimes reported to law enforcement agencies for every 100,000 persons within a population. A crime rate is calculated by dividing the number of reported crimes by the total population. The result is then multiplied by 100,000. For example, in 2025 there were 37,311 robberies in California and the population was 39,528,899. This equals a robbery crime rate of 94.4 per 100,000.

$$\frac{37,311}{39,528,899} = 0.0009439 \times 100,000 = 94.4 \text{ per } 100,000$$

Clearance rate – A clearance rate describes the percentage of clearances reported to the number of crimes reported. A clearance rate is calculated by dividing the number of clearances by the number of crimes reported. The result is multiplied by 100. For example, in 2025 there were 1,090 clearances for homicide crimes and 1,374 homicides reported. This equals a homicide clearance rate of 79.3%.

ARRESTS

Arrest rate – An arrest rate describes the number of arrests made by law enforcement agencies per 100,000 total population or per 100,000 population considered to be at risk for arrest. Regardless of the population used, both rates are calculated in the same manner. An arrest rate is calculated by dividing the number of reported arrests by the desired population. The result is multiplied by 100,000.

For example: 1) In 2025, there were 274,566 total felony arrests and the total population was 39,528,899, which equates to a 694.6 arrest rate; 2) In 2025, there were 274,566 total felony arrests and the population at risk (10-69 years of age) was 30,506,555, which equates to a 900.0 arrest rate.

$$2) \frac{274,566}{30,506,555} = 0.0090002 \times 100,000 = 900.0 \text{ per } 100,000 \text{ population at risk}$$

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Percent change – A percent change describes the change in number or rate from one year to another. A percent change is calculated by subtracting the base-year data from the current-year data. The result is divided by the base-year data and multiplied by 100. For example, in 2025 the robbery crime rate was 94.4. In 2020, the robbery crime rate was 112.3. The percent change in rate from 2020 to 2025 is a 15.9% decrease.

$$\frac{94.4 - 112.3}{112.3} = -0.15939 \times 100 = -15.9$$

Populations at risk – The Arrest tables in this report (16, 17, 22, and 27) include three comparison populations: total (10–69 years of age), adult (18–69 years of age), and juvenile (10–17 years of age). The term Population at Risk refers to that portion of the total population who, because of like characteristics to the specific study group, are considered “at risk.” For example, juveniles, all persons ages 10-17 would constitute the at risk population. Both populations, 10-17 years of age and 18-69 years of age are grouped together as the population at risk for the purpose of this publication for arrest incident occurrences.

When a series of rates is calculated using different populations, the rate calculated for the total will not equal the sum of the rates for the parts. For example, the arrest rate calculated using the total at risk population will not equal the sum of the juvenile arrest rate (based on the juvenile at risk population) and the adult arrest rate (based on the adult at risk population).

Also, the percent changes calculated for these at risk rates cannot be added. This is because the percent change in the total arrest rate is the result of independent changes in both the number of arrests and the at risk populations of adults and juveniles.
